

A CELEBRATION OF OUR History Present Future

As a child growing up in Rosebud, Alabama, Rosa Jinzey Young had a vision for educating her people that was so impossible only God could make it happen.

And He did. With a fearless faith, Rosa trusted in God through Christ to bring education and the Gospel to the children of rural Alabama. From the first school she built in 1912, her ministry reached hundreds of children with the life-saving Gospel and touched lives throughout the world.

Joined by Lutheran Missionary Nils Baake and the Synod, Rosa helped found over 20 Lutheran schools and churches in central Alabama. In 1922, the Alabama Lutheran Academy began to train teachers and church workers.

Today we celebrate our history, our present, and our future as we join together to support the mission and ministry that Dr. Young started at Concordia College-Selma. We ask you to help keep her vision of Christ-centered education alive. Every dollar you give will be matched up to $400,000.

Please return this with your gift today.
